

WOW, San Francisco, 5.-15. September 2011

It has been a while when I visited America, finally back and how!!

After a straight flight from Amsterdam I arrived after eleven hours on San Francisco airport.

Judy Chen has invited me to her wow event, which was held at the Marriott hotel, San Francisco airport.

When i arrived on Wednesday I met two lovely ladies, with whom I have been sight seeing on Thursday before the event started.

We have been to: Fishermans Warf, pier 39, toured around through San Francisco with a double Decker bus, where we hopped on and then again of the bus.

I saw even a glimpse of Alcatraz, the golden gate bridge and the museum of Walt Disney.

We even ate at a famous fish restaurant.

A day to remember...:)
